central committee for this county. He spoke of the claims of the democrats who had said that the books of the Treasury department were wrong. What he asked of the republican party of this county was the same scrutiny of the books of the county commissioners.

THE OFFICERS. Mr. W. W. Wright was made permanent chairman of the convention. Chas. R. Hartshorne was made secretary and John W. Lancaster assistant secretary. Upon motion of Alexander A. Braddock, it was resolved that a committee of two from each election district of the county be appointed to nominate a republi-can county ticket. This motion was opposed by Henry Franklin Veirs.

THE NOMINATIONS.

On the reassembling of the convention the following nominations were recommended by the committee: State senate, Upton Darby; house of delegates, H. H. Miller, J. Vance Lewis, Chas. W. Jones; county commissioners, W. G. Bowman, W. P. Stallsmith, W. W. Wright, W. E. Brown, Thos. W. Brown; for sheriff, James R. Howes.

Resolutions were adopted denunciatory of the democratic rule of the county. One in public to call and examine their extensive new stock- | regard to public printing was cheered by the convention. Another, charging the letting of pole the public roads to favorites, met with like the Losses of Life and Property. LEWES, DEL., Sept. 14 .- Twenty-nine of the thirty cottages at Point Pleasant were washed away by the storm and the occupants forced to take to boats to escape.

The town of Milton and Slaughter's Beach were also partially submerged. The number of lives lost here is variously estimated at from one to four score. None of these estimates is based upon facts being merely supposition founded on extravagant rumors heard on every street corner. A careful computation of the number of lives lost within a radius of eight miles of Lewes, which is the center of destruction, foots up forty-three. The actual list may, however, foot up twice this number.

HE THOUGHT IT WAS PROPHECY. HOME RULE IN THE DISTRICT. A Story of Lincoln Told by an Old Methodist Minister.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.- A dispatch from Lewiston, Ill., says: The Rev. Dr. Haney, a pioneer Methodist minister of Canton, Ill., told this reminisence of Abraham Lincoln:

The Rev. Peter Akers, an eloquent pioneer Methodist, held a meeting near Springfield some years before the war, and one day Abraham Lincoln and several other attorneys of Springfield drove out to it. Father Akers spoke that day on the "Sin of slavery," and prophesied that in a few years God would wipe out this crime of crimes in blood. The sermon have something; that he will accept nothing was generally regarded as the mouthings of a blatant abolitionist and in returning home the but that, and that it was with the understanding that he was to get the place that he relawyers laughed and joked about it. Lincoln, however, remained silent and grave.

Noticing his unusual conduct his companions rallied him by asking, 'What do you think of policy of home rule—appointing District men to the District offices. The President has Brother Akers' sermon? Mr. Lincoln replied as follows: "Well, I confess that I have never before been so deeply impressed by human utterance. I never thought we should have war over slavery or any other question. But those utterances today seemed to come far beyond the preacher. They came to me as real and awful prophecy. More astonishing than all, and you may laugh as you will, I seemed to be thrilled in my very soul with the conviction that I am in some way to have a tremendousresponsibility in that coming and awful war."

Still Examining Talesmen. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.-The work of procuring a jury in the Cronin case was resumed this morning with two men, James Pearson and John Culver practically accepted by both sides, and

P. T. Tomlinson partly examined by the de-fence. Mr. Foster after further examining Mr. Tomlinson accepted him temporarily. Talesmen Halliday, Conway, Hennegan and Wood were then examined and excused for cause. A Fatal Racing Accident. DUBUQUE, Iowa, Sept. 14.-At the Jackson county fair yesterday an accident in the 2:30 trotting race resulted in the death of McGregor Boy, one of the trotters, and a probably fatal injury to Bert Smith, his driver. A Clinton horse and McGregor Boy got off ahead, the latter in the lead. At the first turn the former tried to take the pole from McGregor. The wheels of the sulkies interlocked and both horses and their drivers were thrown to the ground. McGregor Boy's neck was broken and he died instantly. Bert Smith, his driver, had an arm broken and was internally injured. McGregor Boy was owned by Mr. Adams of Prophetstown, Ill., and was valued at $8,000.

It Stands in the Way of the Retiring Commisioner of Pensions.

FOR HIM-FEELING OF CITIZENS OF WASHING-TON SEEMS AGAINST THE APPOINTMENT. It is all but absolutely certain that Corporal Tanner will get the appointment of recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia, His friends are demanding this appoint-ment for him, declaring that he must signed the pension commissionership. They are making a desperate fight for it. The stumbling block in the way is that the President is most thoroughly committed to the FCLLOWED THE HOME-RULE POLICY as to other places, and has time and time again declared that the marshalship was the only District office that should go to an outsider. This was the reason given Senator Spooner for refusing to Senator Spooner for refusing to appoint ex-Representative Guenther of Wisconsin to this particular place and it has been repeated in the case of other candidates. In deference to this the President is reluctant to appoint Tanner and it would seem almost impossible for him to do so.

Yet Tanner's friends are making a desperate effort to force him to do so. They claim to have had the understanding that the appointment was to be made, else Tanner would not have resigned. CLAIMING THAT TANNER IS A DISTRICT MAN.

To relieve the President from his embarrassment by his home-rule pledges they are claiming that Mr. Tanner has renounced his residence in Brocklyn and assumed residence in the District. They say that he has leased a house here for three years and intends to make Washington his home. They claim that the appointment will certainly be made. They say that Mr. Perry S. Heath, who was himself a prominent candidate for the place, has sent word to the President by Marshal Ransdell that if he is not to get the appointment there is no one he would rather have get it than Tanner. They are hustling to try to get some local standing for Tanner before the appointment

izens of the District with whom a STAR reporter has talked. They have nothing to say about Tanner personally, but think it would be an outrage to appoints him recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia because it was found inexpedient to keep him in another office to which he was appointed. They can hardly bring themselves to believe that the President contemplates making the appointment. Every dollar of the money earned by the office is paid by citizens doing business there and not a penny comes from the United States treasury.

The citizens claim all these District offices, and, if there is to be any distinction as to them, more particularly do they claim this office.

TWO AND A HALF MILLION. Annual Report of the Collector of Taxes-His Recommendations.

Mr. E. G. Davis, the collector of taxes, today HIS PRIENDS SAY HE WILL BE APPOINTED RE-CORDER OF DEEDS-THEY ARE WORKING HARD submitted to the District Commissioners his report for the last fiscal year, giving a detailed statement of the business of his office. The reports shows the total collections for the year to have been $2,544,192.68, as follows: Realty, $1,774,039.87; personal $169,944.28; penalties, $85,144.22; miscella neous, $268,610.18; water fund, $246,454.13. In addition the collector charges himself with amount of reductions in assessments, $16,411.27, and amount of uncollected taxes, $838,745.91, making grand total. $3,399,349.86. ARREARS OF PERSONAL TAX.

He reports gratifying results in the efforts of the office to enforce the collection of arrears of the personal tax under the appropriation for this purpose of $2,000. During the time the deputy has been on the work he has collected about $10,000 and reported $14,000 uncollectible.

He says that, judging from the success al-ready attained in this line he anticipates a ma-terial increase in the District revenues from this source. He says, further, that the result has proved the statements heretofore made of the existence of a large personal tax arrears balance made up of fictitious values, a showing alike discreditable to tax payers and the offi-cers of the District charged with its collection. With reference to the recommendation in his last report to strike from the books all personal tax arrears previous to 1884 he says ie renews it, as they are uncollectible, the majority of them being founded upon arbitrary assessments by the assessor, and they serve no other purpose than to swell the already large unpaid balance due the District. RECOMMENDATIONS. He dwells upon the importance of a systematic elimination from the books of his office of which the taxes due equal and in many cases vigorous enforcement of the law provided for such cases would result in material benefit to the District. He urges the return to the one-payment system for the collection of taxes, and calls especial attention to the importance of the enactment of a comprehensive law regulating tax sales. He says the system should be perfected. He reviews his recommendation for the compilation of an arrears book of taxes. Every year he says adds to the already large accumuation of tax books, making it more difficult to prepare certificates of taxes.

He says that a radical change is necessary in the manner of answering requests for tax bills, as the bills are furnished only for the cur-

AN INCREASED OFFICE FORCE NECESSARY. He calls attention to the fact that from increase of population and additional duties required the business of the office has increased to such an extent as to render additional force absolutely necessary.

The additions needed, he continues, are a known to a large number.

deputy collector at $2,000 and an assistant cashier at $1,600, the necessity for a deputy collector being imperative, the collector time being almost wholly taken up in affixing his signature to letters, receipts, &c., the law only providing for the performance of these duties by the cashier in the absence or inability of the collector. The many inquiries from taxpayers also consume a great amount of his time and, in short, he continues, an assistant is absolutely necessary. In the matter of the assistant cashier he says that there is a great amount of work imposed upon the cashier by increase of Wilmington that the tracks were clear, to the hearts of the moistened Washingtonians the current work, and that there are at The operator at Anacostia allowed the and the few bursts of sunshine that occurred quired. The responsibilities of this position will not allow any but experienced clerks to assume the same. The necessity for an able assistant is therefore apparent. He then goes on to urge the Commissioners to call upon Congress for this addition to the working force. Better and safer facilities he says should be accorded his office for transmitting the re-ceipts from taxes, &c., to the United States treasury. He urges that the Secretary of the be requested to designate a bank of deposit in the city for the funds of the Dis-

Could Not Find His Son. The rule recently issued against John Frett whom a charge of selling liquor to minors is pending, was returned in the Police Court this morning.

Mr. Frett submitted an affidavit to the effect that he went to Baltimore in search of his son, but failed to find him; that he does not know the boy's whereabouts, and cannot, therefore, produce him as a witness.

The rule was thereupon discharged, the judge expressing some doubt as to the power of the court in such proceedings.

The Richardson Case Dismissed. James Richardson, the Union mission convert who was arrested on a charge of vagrancy preferred against him by Charles G. Lorch, another convert, was tried in the Police Court this morning. According to the evidence of Mr. Wheeler of the mission the defendant came there four years ago the defendant came there four years ago and has been attending their meetings ever since. For the first two years the witness said "Jimmy" did pretty well, but then he took unto himself a wife, which intensified his begging propensities, because he then had two persons to beg for instead of one.

Mr. Lorch charged that Richardson had been appropriate the mission by begging propersons at the mission by begging

Mr. McMichael testified that Richardson Air. McMichael testined that Richardson threatened to put him in his grave if he had him arrested. He also accused the defendant of having disturbed the meetings.

The defendant made a statement in his own behalf, saying he had the names of thirty-seven business men attached to a paper certifying to his good character; that he had been sick for a long time and was unable to deep bard were.

THE B. AND P. COLLISION. The Coroner's Inquest over the Body of Engineer Jamison.

ANDERSON OF THE FREIGHT TRAIN THE FIRST The inquest on the body of James Jamison, the engineer who was killed in the accident on the Baltimore and Potomac road last night, was held today in Lieut, Kelley's room in the sixth precinct station house. Coroner Patterson arrived shortly before 2 o'clock and a few minutes later the jury, composed of W. A. Peacock, Z. E. Wheat, W. H. Sleeper, Pat. Cusick, J. B. Hunt, and W. H. Whaley, was sworn in over the body of the deceased, which was in the morgue. THE PIRST WITNESS was George W. Anderson of 923 Biddle street, Baltimore. He was the conductor in charge of the freight train which was in the collision. He testified to having been stopped by a red light, or "block" as he termed it, at the Navy Yard, where he laid until 8:37, when the white light was shown him and he went ahead. He knew nothing more until the collision occurred, although he saw the headlight of the passenger train as it came toward him. He supposed, however, that the two trains were on their respective tracks. He was sent out by the yard master, but had no orders as to the incoming train. It was an unusual thing for trains to come in on the track on which the freight train was running. The signal to go ahead was given him by the operator at the Navy Yard. The operator at the Navy Yard is named Kramer. There is another signal tower at the B. and O. junction just across the Eastern busch, but as to the signals from that tower witness knew nothing. TESTIMONY OF SUPERINTENDENT M'KEEVER. Superintendent Daniel P. McKeever, of this division of the Baltimore and Potomac railroad, was the next witness. He was questioned as to the signais commonly given to conductors, and stated that a red light meant "stop," while a white light indicated "go ahead." RERATING OF PENSIONS.

The Final Report of the Investigating Commission.

WHO WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS DEATH-THE The commission appointed by Secretary TAKING OF TESTIMONY BEGUN - CONDUCTOR Noble to investigate the rerating of pensions by the pension office today gave up their quarters in the pension office. On Monday the members of the commission will return their desks in the Interior department. Their work is practically ended, although it is said that the commission has not yet been dissolved. Since handing in their detailed report several days ago they have been at work on another line of investigation and today they submitted their report to Secretary Noble.

The latter said today that he did not wish to either suppress the report of the commission or to give it to the press, leaving it to be inferred that the final disposition of the report was a matter of indifference to him. It is probable that the same disposition will be made of the report of the commission as will be made of the Noble-Tanner correspondence. It is stated that both will be held in reserve, and in the event that circumstances require their publication that they will be given out to the press. There seems to be a feeling that the entire matter will be the subject of an investigation by Congress and then all the documents will be laid before the proper committee.
